Tells Germans To Aid Selves

Acheson Says Freedom Can't Be Exported

Berlin, Nov. 14—(AP)—Secretary of State Dean Acheson told Germans today the United States cannot export freedom and prosperity to nations which lack courage and will to help themselves.

The failure of China to withstand Communism proved that, he said.

Therefore divided Germany must exert all its "spirit, mind and energy" in its battle for liberty and recovery. Such an effort will always win American support and tangible help, the secretary declared.

Winds Up Tour
Acheson wound up a three-day tour of western Germany here in Berlin where east and west collide.

For the third time since he came into Germany from Paris, the secretary of state told newsmen that High Commissioner John J. McCloy makes the policy statements for the United States in Germany.

He gave no clues to the decisions reached in Paris last week by the American, British and French foreign ministers in their conference on Germany.

His emphasis on this was viewed as a direct answer to British criticism of McCloy over the question of ending the dismantling of German industries and other economic problems.

He said McCloy has the full confidence and backing of the president of the United States and the State department.

Two Types Of Ills
Acheson told a news conference the world is beset by two types of problems:

1. Russian aggressive tactics.
2. Economic ills.

"A group of powers led by the Soviet Union is attempting to make thrusts in various directions which interfere with the whole environment of freedom and liberty which many nations still have and intend to keep. Now these thrusts have to be met where they occur," he declared.

"Then there are problems which exist whether the Soviet Union exists or not. These are the problems of economic recovery in Britain, France, in Germany, in south-east Asia, the entire Middle East. Those problems call for what we might describe as the most constructive part of domestic policy here and of American policy abroad."

On the China question he said: "The United States can help those people who are determined to help themselves. I was continually irritated by a phrase which was going around the states. People talked about the failure of American policy in China. It was not the failure of American policy. It was the failure of Chinese policy in China."

Approve Low-Rent Housing Units For Illinois Cities

Washington, Nov. 14—(AP)—The public housing administration today approved allocation of 1,077 low-rent public housing units for two Pennsylvania and 10 Illinois communities. Among these:

The Madison county (Ill.) housing authority received allocations as follows: 85 units for Madison, 70 for Venice, 100 for Collinsville, 50 for Wood River and 400 for Alton. Loans requested were: Madison $34,000; Venice $20,000; Collinsville $40,000; Wood River $20,000 and Alton $130,000.

The LaSalle (Ill.) county authority received the following allocations: Mendota 30 units, Marseilles 42, La Salle 60, Oglesby 3 and Streator 100. Loan requests were: Mendota $12,000; Marseilles $16,800; LaSalle $24,000; Oglesby $12,000; and Streator $40,000.

Everything Goes Wrong As Young Pair Try To Elope

Waukegan, Ill., Nov. 14—(AP)—Charles Heidemman, 20, and Delores Mora, 15, left here Saturday for Crown Point, Ind., to be married.

Heidemman and Miss Mora had obtained their parents' permission, but were refused a license by Crown Point officials for failure to take the necessary medical examination.

As they headed back to Waukegan they got into a minor automobile accident. Miss Mora reluctantly put up her wedding ring as bond to guarantee Heidemman's future appearance in court on a traffic charge.

The car repaired, they were on their way home once again. But police at Skokie, Ill., arrested them for speeding.

The couple returned home yesterday. Their next date is with a judge—but not to be married.

Says Girl's Rebuff Touched Off OSU Student's Spree

Illinois News Briefs

Columbus, O., Nov. 14—(AP)—A girl friend's rebuff after a gay homecoming dance touched off the weekend spree in which an Ohio State university freshman killed a fraternity brother, a detective speculated today.

But, the girl denied this theory. James D. Heer of Euclid, 26-year-old former marine, pleaded innocent today to a charge of first degree murder in the slaying of James T. McKeown, 21-year-old senior journalism student from Norwood, O.

The girl friend, Joyce Crafton, 22, Cleveland, was arraigned as a material witness.

Heer was held to the Franklin county grand jury without bond; Miss Crafton's bond of $300 was continued.

Detective Sgt. Lowell V. Sheets considered the good-night exchange between Heer and Miss Crafton, who came to the university for a homecoming party at the Delta Tau fraternity house—a possible "key" to the wife's alleged slaying.

Sheets said Heer made "improper advances" to the Cleveland girl. He said they were rebuffed. He said Heer "stomped from the room, started Miss Crafton would read plenty about him in the newspapers."

Sheets said Heer admitted he was "mad at a group of six or eight fraternity brothers, who had criticized him for dancing with other girls," and that he intended to get a pistol and "start on a criminal orgy."

Widespread Strike Of East And Gulf Shipping Imminent
Washington, Nov. 14—(AP)—The federal mediation service said tonight a widespread strike of east and gulf coast shipping seems probable at midnight tomorrow night in a dispute between ship operators and the AFL ship officers union.

A government mediation session broke up early tonight without progress. Another meeting is scheduled tomorrow (9:30 a.m., CST).

"It looks very much like a strike tomorrow night," said William M. Margolis, assistant director of the mediation service.

"If it occurs it will tie up most of the east and gulf coast shipping. The issue is a union demand that ship deck officers, other than captains and first officers, be hired through the union on a rotating basis to share the jobs."

The shipowners have offered to strengthen a present contract clause which gives preference to hiring ship officers who are union members.

Missouri Court Says Use Tax Law Unconstitutional
Jefferson City, Mo., Nov. 14—(AP)—The Missouri supreme court declared unconstitutional today the state's two-year-old use tax law.

The law was enacted by the legislature in an effort to plug a loophole in the state's two per cent sales tax act. The sales tax applied to retail sales made in Missouri but not to interstate sales.

The use tax act was an effort to collect an amount identical to the sales tax from purchasers of automobiles who went across the state line to buy.

But it exempted from the tax motor vehicles "having a seating capacity of ten passengers or more"—clearly an attempt to exempt big passenger buses.

That exemption was unconstitutional, the court held.

"The invalid exemption renders the entire statute invalid since the effect of the statute, without the exemption, would be other than that which the general assembly intended and enacted," the court said.

Violinist, Singer Commits Suicide
Chicago, Nov. 14—(AP)—Mrs. Kate Merrill Wells, 39, a violinist and singer, was found today by her nine-year-old son, dead of a bullet wound in her suburban Evanston apartment.

Hubert Kelsh, Evanston chief of detectives, termed the death a "suicide" and said a note to the woman's divorced husband, Stevenson Wells, was found near the body.

Kelsh said the boy, Lindy, who found the body when he came home from school at noon, told him "mommy shouldn't have been playing with guns."

High Court To Decide If Aliens May Seek Its Help
Washington, Nov. 14—(AP)—The Supreme Court agreed today to decide whether aliens pailed by United States authorities abroad can seek release in Federal courts here.

The Justice department and the Army are fighting against any such authority, which they contend would "impede the orderly administration of enemy-occupied areas" and throw all U.S. war crimes convictions into confusion.

The Army said it is holding from 1,200 to 1,300 persons abroad who might be affected. It said from 500 to 600 of them are in Europe.

At the same time the court refused to consider the case of an alien imprisoned by the action of an international war crimes tribunal. It has repeatedly declined to interfere with international court findings.

In other cases the court: 1. Ruled 8-0 that a veteran's right to job seniority under the selective service act extends beyond his first year of re-employment on his pre-war job.

U. S. Hints It May Stop Coal Strike

Takes 'Watchful Waiting' Stand For Day Or So

Washington, Nov. 14—(AP)—The government dropped a broad hint today that it may act after a day or so to stop a new coal strike December 1 unless John L. Lewis and coal operators make a fast peace move.

Cyrus S. Ching, federal mediation director, told reporters after a White House conference that he was adopting an attitude of "watchful waiting" for the next 24 or 48 hours.

Ching obviously was hoping Lewis and the coal operators could break their deadlock on writing a new contract. But it was plain that neither Ching nor the White House is disposed to let the matter slide into next week.

Lewis has twice during recent days invited peace talks with the operators. But they consider further talks useless unless Lewis says he is willing to renew the old contract, expired last July 1, without boosting pay or welfare funds, or reducing working hours, as Lewis wants.

Southern operators cautioned during the day with some indications they may reply to Lewis' weekend bid for negotiations.

No Signs Of Compromise
Because of the lack of any signs of compromise, Ching was reported to feel there wasn't much use for him to arrange federal sponsored negotiations. Lewis and the operators in six months have made no noticeable progress towards solving their problems.

Lewis has been seeking, without success, a deal with some segment of the industry that he could use to sign on the dotted line. He tried this with Illinois and Indiana operators publicly and a number of other industry leaders privately. He spent last weekend in New York, "on union business."

The operators have taken a firm stand, saying they can't increase costs now because of the fuel price competition with oil and gas.

Winchell's Mother Plunges To Death From NY Hospital
New York, Nov. 14—(AP)—Walter Winchell's mother plunged to death tonight from the 10th floor of a hospital where she was under treatment.

The official police report said Mrs. Jennie Winchell, 77, "jumped or fell."

Her death was discovered when a nurse came into her room at doctor's hospital and found a window open.

Mrs. Winchell's nightgown-clad body was found shortly afterwards on the 87th street sidewalk below. A hospital doctor pronounced her dead.

Later she was identified by the columnist's wife, who said Winchell had been notified in Miami, Fla., and planned to fly here tonight or early tomorrow morning.

The elder Mrs. Winchell, who had been living at the hotel Franconia, had entered the hospital for an operation and was suffering from a heart ailment, the hospital said.

Mrs. Walter Winchell said her mother-in-law had suffered from the heart ailment since 1941.

Lands Flaming B-29 Safely After Crewmen Bail Out
Salt Lake City, Nov. 14—(AP)—An aircraft B-29 landed safely tonight at the Salt Lake City airport after one of its motors had caught fire in flight.

Three men were aboard the craft when it set down at 6:42 p.m. (CST). Ten others had bailed out over an area some 30 miles west of here near the south end of Great Salt Lake.

One of the first persons to reach the scene said the number one engine (the left outboard) had caught fire as the plane prepared to return to its home base at Spokane, Wash.

The motor cowling did not appear to be affected by the fire, the witness said. The B-29 had completed a flight over the Wendover bombing range in western Utah before the fire broke out. The fire burned only intermittently while the plane made its way to the airport here, persons at the scene said. The fire was soon extinguished.

DIES OF INJURIES
Waukegan, Ill., Nov. 14—(AP)—Mathias Waresk, 77, of North Chicago, died today of injuries suffered Saturday night when he was struck by an automobile while crossing Waukegan street.

Waresk, who was a carpenter for the North Western railroad until his retirement 10 years ago, was the founder of the Slovenian National Home at North Chicago.

BEAR HUNTS MAN BUT ENDS UP AS STEAKS
Brookville, Pa., Nov. 14—(AP)—The bear went hunting for Ray Shaffer, 30 today. But the result was the same: Dead bear.

Shaffer, an oil pumper, said he saw the big black bear lumbering around the corner of his barn as he returned to work. Shaffer quietly went into the house, got a high powered rifle and felled the 300-pound brute.

Today was the opening of the bear season in Pennsylvania.

TAKES SHERMAN'S POST
Washington, Nov. 14—(AP)—Vice Adm. John J. Ballentine took command of the U. S. Sixth Fleet today in the Mediterranean today aboard his flagship cruiser Des Moines anchored at Toulon, France. He succeeds Adm. Forrest Sherman recently named chief of naval operations.

Prince Charles Celebrates First Birthday Monday

ICC Splits In Okaying New Increase

London, Nov. 14—(AP)—Prince Charles, second in line for the British throne, celebrated his first birthday today and took the first salute from the people.

They were the commoners on the sidewalk outside Clarence House, London home of his mother, Princess Elizabeth. They had gathered to honor the young heir.

They waved and shouted "happy birthday" to the little blond prince as he was driven over to Marlborough House to see his great grandmother, the queen mother Mary.

The first-born of the princess and the Duke of Edinburgh, who has a ready smile, grinned at the crowd and waved back gaily. Royalty's sidewalk admirers, who often frequent the gates of Buckingham Palace, took him to their hearts.

His visit to Queen Mary was less of a romp than usual. The dowager queen, now 82, is suffering from a chill and her physicians have advised her to remain indoors for several days.

But the young prince found hilarity in his own crowd—London's exclusive nursery set—at his first birthday party. Among his guests were his five-year-old cousin, Prince Richard, son of the Duke of Gloucester, and several little girls.

Police Hunt White Killers Of Negro Farmer In S. C.
Walhalla, S.C., Nov. 14—(AP)—An aroused public spurred police today in a search for two white slayers of a respected Negro farmer.

The farmer, Michael Rice, 69, bled to death after the two men blasted him with a shotgun in his home Saturday night. They removed his money belt containing $400 to $500 in savings.

A 14-year-old Negro boy, Henry Davis, helper and companion of the victim, spent the night beside Rice's body, afraid to go for help after the killers had threatened him.

The boy called officers about 7 a.m. Sunday morning. Oconee county Sheriff Eddie Weathers said he is holding Davis for his own protection.

Weathers pieced out this account of the slaying: Late Saturday a pair of white men pushed open the door of Rice's house, stepped inside and asked the time.

"It's 10:45," Rice replied. "O.K., we're just carousing around a little."

They left, but returned a few minutes later. "Without a word, one of them aimed and fired the shotgun at the old man," the charge blasted his groin.

One killer shouted to the other: "Get his money belt! I don't want to get blood on my hands!"

The pair warned the Davis youth not to call for help or leave the house. They ran out.

Prisoner Escapes Through 7 1/4 Inch Hole In Jail
Murphysboro, Ill., Nov. 14—(AP)—Melvin R. Baker, 42, an Arkansas parolee, tonight was back in the same jail from which he escaped through an opening 7 1/4 by 12 inches.

The man was recaptured last night near the Murphysboro home of his father. He surrendered to Robert Aldridge, a parole agent, and patrolman Ray Robinson.

Baker, held without charge, slipped out of jail last Friday through the small opening made in the bars of his cell door.

BRITAIN CALLS FOR RECRUITS
London, Nov. 14—(AP)—Britain today called for volunteers for a civil defense corps to deal with any atomic warfare.

Active recruiting will begin tomorrow for the peacetime corps authorized by parliament last summer, home secretary Chuter Ede said.

He said he would not say how large a defense corps he expected to raise.

Says Coplon Was Arrested For Trying To Elude FBI
New York, Nov. 14—(AP)—An FBI agent testified today that Judith Coplon and Valentin Gubitchev were arrested because they tried to shake off FBI men in a pursuit rivaling a Hollywood spy thriller.

Agent Robert R. Granville was the witness. He traced move by move the seven-car and 21-agent dragnet that finally closed in on the government girl and the Soviet engineer last March 4 in the shadow of New York's Third Avenue elevated railroad.

Miss Coplon, 28, a former Justice department employee, and Gubitchev, 32, now suspended from his United Nations post, are charged with conspiring to steal secret U.S. documents for transmission to the Russians.

In Washington last summer, Miss Coplon was convicted on a charge of stealing the government papers. She is appealing a prison sentence of 40 months to 10 years.

She is fighting the New York indictment on the grounds that it places her in double jeopardy—that is, puts her on trial twice for the same offense.

This argument is pending before the court.

The government contends that the theft of the papers was one crime and that a second occurred if she conspired with Gubitchev to transmit them to Russia.

Their trial was scheduled to begin today. Federal Judge Sylvester A. Ryan agreed, however, to a pre-trial hearing on a defense motion to force return of papers and other property taken from Miss Coplon when she was arrested.

Her lawyer, Archibald Palmer, contends that the arrest was illegal. The hearing may last several days.

East Railroads Get Fare Hike

UN OKAYS CONTINUING TALKS ON ATOM BARS

Lake Success, Nov. 14—(AP)—The special political committee of the United Nations today approved a Canadian-French proposal calling upon the five big powers and Canada to continue their private talks on atomic control.

The resolution was supported by the United States and Britain and vigorously opposed by the Soviet bloc. The vote was 48 to five, with five abstentions.

Steel Production Spurts As Industry Returns To Normal
Pittsburgh, Nov. 14—(AP)—Steel production spurted across the nation today with the bulk of the industry returning to near-normal operations after the 42-day long strike by the CIO United Steelworkers.

Negotiations continued with a dozen or more small producers. Settlements were reached with more fabricating companies which convert raw steel into finished products.

The union and the Allegheny Ludlum Steel corporation scheduled bargaining sessions tonight, the first since that basic steel producer was struck November 1, a month after the rest of the industry.

The sessions cover 12,000 workers in Pennsylvania and New York state plants.

Latest to sign pension-insurance agreements on the Bethlehem formula were the Vulcan Crucible Steel company, of Allequippa, Pa., the Wyckoff Steel company, Ambridge, Pa., and MacIntosh-Hemphill, Pittsburgh. The exact amounts of the MacIntosh-Hemphill programs were not settled at once.

Russia Called On To Cooperate In Program For Peace
Lake Success, Nov. 14—(AP)—The United States and western powers called on the Soviet Union today to stop its "campaign of hate" and cooperate in a 12-point program for peace.

Warren R. Austin, chief United States delegate, put before the 59-nation political committee of the U. N. Assembly a joint U. S.-British resolution reaffirming belief in the U. N. charter and listing 12 essentials for peace. France quickly endorsed the resolution.

Austin demanded that the political committee call forthwith a three-point resolution presented by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky.

Austin said if Vishinsky wanted to cooperate with the world the Soviet resolution was not necessary; if he did not intend to cooperate, another peace pact among the five great powers—the United States, Russia, Britain, France and China—would be a mockery.

SUES TELEPHONE BOOK FOR NOT LISTING HIM
Chicago, Nov. 14—(AP)—A physician sued for $200,000 damages today because the telephone book didn't list him.

Dr. Leopold Frey, who lives at 4642 North Hermitage avenue and has offices at 3959 Lincoln avenue, contends in the superior court suit that omission from a June directory damaged his reputation and was a breach of verbal contract.

Reuben H. Donnelly Corporation, publisher of the directory, was named as defendant.

DIES IN HOTEL
St. Louis, Nov. 14—(AP)—Henry Clay Latham, 30, prominent Hillsboro, Ill., businessman, died today in the Jefferson hotel while on a business trip here. He operated furniture and hardware stores at Hillsboro.

ICC Splits In Okaying New Increase

Washington, Nov. 13—(AP) Eastern railroads got an O.K. today for a 12 1/2 per cent increase in fares.

When ordered, this will bring the basic coach fare in the east to 3.375 cents a mile and the Pullman and parlor car rate to 4.5 cents a mile.

It will increase the spread in the cost of railroad travel in the east as compared with the south and the west.

Commutation Fares Not Affected
Commutation fares are not affected.

The Interstate Commerce Commission split sharply in authorizing the new increase, estimated by the railroads to provide them an additional $37,800,000 a year.

They are authorized to make the new charges upon five days notice.

A majority of the 11-member agency found the railroads had shown they were entitled to higher fares. The carriers' plea pointed to a net loss of about $25,177,000 in passenger operations last year, calling this the largest in history.

But Chairman Charles D. Mahaffie, who wrote a dissenting opinion in which three other commissioners joined, doubted that higher fares will solve the carriers' problem.

Likely To Be Unfavorable
The net revenue effect of the further substantial increase now approved is more likely to be unfavorable than otherwise," Mahaffie said.

"If the railroads still had substantially a monopoly of passenger transportation, increases in fares, as costs increase, might well be the proper procedure."

"The present problem is not so simple. Aside from the vast amount of inter-city travel by private automobile, public carriers by highway and air provide very effective competition."

"It seems apparent that in addition to continued improvement in their passenger services, the time has arrived for these petitioners (railroads) to experiment with reduced fares, rather than with further increases."

Says Tucker Drew $1,000 Monthly For His Expenses
Chicago, Nov. 14—(AP)—Preston T. Tucker drew $1,000 monthly for 17 months as expenses, federal court was told today.

The witness in the fraud trial of Tucker and seven associates was Martin Breitenbach, formerly controller of the defunct automobile concern.

Breitenbach testified that in addition to Tucker's expense allowance, Fred Rockelman, a co-defendant and vice president, drew $700 extra monthly, and Otis Radford, another defendant, drew $400 monthly for expenses. Breitenbach identified checks for the sums in question.

He also testified that the Tucker corporation, which planned a revolutionary rear-engine car, paid the Ypsilanti Machine and Tool company $200,000 for re-working 25 junkyard "transmissions from old Cord automobiles." The Cord was a front wheel drive car. The Ypsilanti company is owned by Tucker's mother.

Says Twin Strikes May Help Business For Few Months
Moline, Ill., Nov. 14—(AP)—J. D. Farrington, president of the Rock Island railroad, thinks the coal and steel strike may generate business at "a very good level" for the next six months.

Farrington made his observation today at the monthly meeting of the road's board of directors.

He said for the next two months business in general will feel the effects of the two strikes. However, "after that two-month period, the renewed demand for many industrial products will push business up to the very good level."

The board and Farrington also inspected the Silvis repair shops and the $3,000,000 humping yard near Carbon Cliff. This will be in full operation in about 10 days in distributing freight cars.

MALENKOV CLIMBS IN POLITBURO;
IS HIS PEACE TALK IN EARNEST?

In Russia, where you stand in official pictures is very important. It isn't because you'll show up better, but because it tells how you rate with Joseph Stalin.

If your face disappears from the Politburo lineup, no one assumes you just couldn't make it that day. The general feeling is you've been bounced, demoted, sent to Siberia or shot.

There was understandable concern, therefore, when it was reported recently that a Politburo member named Lazar M. Kaganovich seemed to be missing from a Moscow display of Politburo portraits. Fortunately for Kaganovich, the report proved erroneous, thus saving him from quick interment at the hands of American foreign affairs experts.

On the other hand, another Politburo member gave evidence that there was no mistake in the recent picture showing him at Stalin's left elbow. According to Russia's photographic protocol, this makes the gentleman—Georgi M. Malenkov—the No. 3 man in the Soviet Union.

Malenkov spoke out the other day in tones of authority that seem to go with his increased stature. And because he occupies that No. 3 place at the Stalin elbow, we in the United States have to pay attention to what he said.

He declared that any new world war "will be the grave, not only for individual capitalist states, but for the whole of world capitalism." Malenkov naturally is thinking largely of this country when he talks about capitalism.

America has a plan, he said, to create a world empire, to make the rest of the globe a U. S. colony. This nation is being driven to seek this goal by frenzied "warmongers" who see us tottering on the edge of depression.

Now all that is a familiar Russian refrain. It represents wishful thinking of a sort we've been getting from Moscow for a long time.

Americans may find greater interest in other Malenkov statements. For example, he said that never before had Russia's frontiers been "so just and well arranged." If there is the slightest grain of sincerity in that comment, then it doesn't sound as if the Soviet Union were preparing to go bursting over its neighbors' borders—for the moment at least.

Malenkov asserted, as have his countrymen many times, that Russia doesn't want war and is doing all it can to prevent it. "The peace policy of the Soviet Union is the very basis of the Soviet system," he said.

Of course, nations bent on aggression nearly always talk peace right up to the moment when they launch their attack. The United States government is widely skeptical of what might turn out to be just window dressing for war preparation.

On the other hand, this country knows it can never overlook the possibility that the Russians actually mean what they are saying when they shout peace.

A Titled Lady Who Knows Her Wolves

New York.—Democrat America has a passion for conferring titles on pretty girls. One who has practically been nominated "Miss Everything" is Margaret Phelan, an ex-chor singer and star songbird of the nation's supper club circuit.

So far Miss Phelan, a Texas Irish lass with dark red hair and eyes like fireflies, has been chosen: "The girl with the most perfect shoulders in the world"—by the Artists League of America.

"Miss Gung Ho"—by the Marine Corps' first division.

"One of the ten best tailored women in America"—by the fashion academy.

Miss sharp look of 1949—"by the Associated Cutlers industries."

"One of the ten best non-professional dancers in America"—by the dancers educators of America.

"Miss Ambassador of national flower week"—by the American society of florists.

"The girl we'd most like to regiment"—by the army regiment.

Honors Rest Lightly
These honors rest lightly on Miss Phelan's beautiful shoulders, which, unfortunately were covered by a throat-high green dress the afternoon I talked to her in the Peacock Alley at the Waldorf. (Incidentally, you see more gaudy in that alley than peacocks.)

I thought that "Miss Gung Ho" business topped them all, said Maggie. "I understand it's sort of a marine invasion cry."

The title she herself feels she has most earned, however, is "Miss Wolf Expert." Her throaty soprano and intimate songs make many a lonely night club patron want to howl his woes into her ears at a post-supper table for two.

Turs All Down
Margaret has found the average American wolf about as subtle in his approach as a circus parade—around out of your meals simply because you have SLOW digestion, without knowing it, or gassy stomachs and as a result you are a victim of Blood Poverty! Plastic Surgery Performs Wonders If Properly Done

By Edwin P. Jordan, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

Surgery aimed at repairing physical defects present at birth or scars sustained in war or accidents has developed enormously since the first world war. Many people with deformed noses, protruding ears, or other peculiarities which mar their looks can now be restored to an appearance which, if not beautiful, at least makes them attractive and less conspicuous.

The methods of plastic surgery used to accomplish these results are often complicated, time-consuming, and expensive. It is frequently necessary, for example, to take cartilage from one of the patient's own ribs and to use it in reconstructing a nose, an ear, or some other part. The transplantation of such tissues requires the establishment of a new blood supply and this takes time. The same thing is true of skin grafting when it is necessary to cover some part of the body with skin removed from some other place.

"Face Lifting"
There is something about the field of plastic surgery which has brought into it some who promise things they cannot perform or are otherwise not fair with the patient. For example, there was a period during which "face lifting" was frequently requested by elderly women whose normal aging caused their skin to become loose and sag. It was quite common to treat this by injecting under the skin some kind of waxy substance which would give the cheeks a certain fullness. This was not safe, however, and many serious results occurred and "face lifting" has, therefore, been pretty well abandoned.

It is certainly wise for anyone who feels the need for plastic surgery to obtain the advice and efforts of only the best in that field. Otherwise, they may be faced, not only with disappointment, but with serious complications as well. Needless to say, even the best are not always completely successful in this complicated and delicate kind of work.

No Need To Fear $1 Coffee,
Experts Say; No Shortage

By Gaynor Maddox
NEA Food and Markets Editor

New York.—(NEA)—Coffee importers say you can stop worrying about dollar-a-pound coffee.

Current myths of shortage and panic prices were born when recent reports indicated that in 1950 there may not, for the first time, be a surplus of green coffee in the coffee producing countries.

Take the supply situation. Theophilus de Andrade, president of the Pan-American Coffee Bureau, told me: "The present shortage of green coffee—which is the shortage currently in the news—will not reach the public for a year."

"The fact is that this year's coffee imports into the United States are rapidly approaching a point which will exceed all previous records. There is no danger of the general public not being able to buy coffee despite the impression some retailers are trying to give that a shortage is probable."

W. F. Williamson, secretary of the National Coffee Association, said there is nothing to be afraid of concerning our supplies.

Some experts still believe there may even be a surplus next year. Robert H. Bennett, sales and advertising manager of the Maxwell House Coffee division of General Foods, said he is far from certain there will not be a surplus of green coffee next year.

"We have a normal supply on hand in the United States now," Bennett said. "Maybe next year there will be somewhat less green coffee available than there was this year. But I insist that may or may not be so. No one can be positive."

His company is one of the two largest coffee importers in the world.

The devaluation of the English pound can alter the predicted lack of coffee surplus in 1950. In the past few years England has become a big coffee importer. But a spokesman for a dominant American importer believes that devaluation may seriously cut England's coffee purchases next year.

Yet prices are skyrocketing despite the normal supplies of coffee on hand. Hoarding by panicky housewives is the main underlying cause, according to all importers interviewed.

of Virginia, and Phil of Chandlerville.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Wednesday at the Virginia Presbyterian church with Rev. Chandler Burton officiating. Burial will be in Walnut Ridge cemetery near Virginia.

Private Wright worked for the Ankrom Construction company before he entered the service. He left the United States for his current overseas tour of duty on June 22, 1949.

Prostitutes In Singapore Counted
Singapore.—(P)—There are 3,500 prostitutes in this city of about a million persons. This is an official police estimate.

Police Commissioner R. E. Foulger, in his annual report, listed: Street-walkers 180; about 180 brothels containing 920; miscellaneous ladies who use their own rooms and can be called to places of assignment, 2,400.

Foulger says brothels are raided consistently throughout the year and 103 juveniles have been detained and handed over to the Social Welfare Department. Some are new arrivals from China.

Bazaar and Cafeteria
SUPPER AT GRACE CHURCH
Committees are making final arrangements for the annual bazaar and cafeteria supper to be held by the Grace church W. S. C. S. Thursday, Nov. 17. The bazaar will open at 2 p. m. and supper will be served from 5 to 7 p. m.

Mrs. E. C. Roach is general chairman of the event.

GREEN COFFEE comes ashore at New York. There's still lots more where this load came from, the importers insist.

ed. Bennett said Maxwell House is trying to buck this panic by informal rationing—withholding extra shipments from wholesalers. If roasters were to follow the trend of consumers they would be buying more green coffee than needed, thereby upping the basic prices.

"It's obvious," he explained, "that if consumers clear out everything in sight on grocers' shelves, the retailers have to rush out and buy more, putting pressure on the green market. But our company's policy is to allot coffee to our customers only on a normal basis. We are therefore in effect rationing retailers through our wholesale trade. We believe this will cause coffee prices to settle more quickly."

He warns that when prices do settle they will be at a point considerably higher than for a long time. There must be a wholesale adjustment in coffee prices just as there has been in meat and other commodities is his explanation.

Representatives of a giant grocery chain, who refused to be quoted, warned that if consumers rush to buy chain store coffee when other brands go up they would drive the chains to hoist their retail prices despite their fixed lower price policy.

Can you benefit by hoarding coffee? All importers warn that speculation could wipe out any savings.

Says the Pan-American Coffee Bureau's president: "Coffee in the bag, whether it is in the whole roasted bean or ground, loses its flavor in a matter of days. Vacuum-packed coffee, unopened, keeps for a much longer time but is definitely not intended to be kept for months."

City Is Shaken By Storm Sunday; Damage Is Slight

A violent wind storm accompanied by rain struck Jacksonville about 5:30 o'clock Sunday night causing some damage to residences and electric light and telephone wires. The storm hit quickly and was of brief duration. Many tree limbs were blown down and in a number of cases caused damage to houses. In South Jacksonville, Ellis Mann, reported that two large windows at his home were blown in by the force of the wind. Hubert Littler of the Illinois Power company stated Monday that his company suffered little damage. Lightning blew out a fuse on the Arenzville line, but this damage was quickly repaired with only brief interruption of service. The Illinois Telephone company had four or five calls, according to W. O. Randall, general manager. Toll line service was not interrupted.

George Coldewey superintendent of the City Light & Power company said that his company received a few calls from wires rubbing against trees caused arcs. A line crew trimmed limbs and removed the trouble. At Franklin, four or five corn cribs on government property were slightly damaged when blown over by the wind. Some of the cribs were under construction and none contained grain. Reports from Arenzville, Meredosia and Naples were that gale-like winds and some rain visited those towns Sunday afternoon, but no serious damage was reported. At Naples a large tree was uprooted and some large branches blown from trees.

Roodhouse Man Makes Donation To Baptist Church

Roodhouse—Vert Day, Roodhouse farmer, presented Rev. H. L. Janvin, pastor of the Baptist church, with a check covering the amount he received from the sale of 213 bushels of corn, which was "The Lord's Share" of his four-acre crop.

Mr. and Mrs. Day agreed last spring when the corn was planted that one half of the profit of the yield would be donated to the church.

The plan was carried out according to "The Lord's Acre" program, which they heard presented at the Mt. Vernon in the fall of 1946. The crop, which yielded 115 1/2 bushels per acre, making "The Lord's Share" 231 bushels, was purchased for a dollar a bushel by Everett Florence.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK
MARKET REPORT

Chicago, Nov. 14.—(P)—Compared with last Thursday's pre-holiday market, hogs today were steady to 15 cents lower, cattle unevenly 50 cents higher to 50 lower, and sheep were steady to 25 cents up.

Hog receipts were the largest since last January, but clearance turned out to be good. Most butchers sold from $15.85 to $16.10 and a top of $16.15, while some brought mostly $14.75 to $15.50, some heavier weights sinking to $13.50.

A load of choice to prime steers topped the bovines at $40.50, followed by a load of high-choice at $39.50 and most choice at $34.00 to $38.00. Good to low-choice kinds were $27.50 to $33.50. Medium and good sausage bulls brought $17.00 to $18.75 and medium to choice vealers $24.00 to $28.00.

Choice woolled native lambs sold at a top of $23.75. Some 1,700 head of choice fed western lambs with No. 1 skins made $23.15 to $23.25. Choice yearlings topped at $21.00 and ewes ranged downward from $11.50. Receipts for sale included an estimated 19,000 hogs, 12,000 cattle, 800 calves and 3,000 sheep.

Among the animals which have been domesticated since before recorded history are the dog, ox, sheep, goat, horse, humped cattle, elephant, cat, goose, honeybee and ass.

Boston won eight National League pennants before 1900, but has been able to win only two since.

FEED GAINS FIRM
ON CHICAGO MART

Chicago, Nov. 14.—(P)—Feed grains again had a firm undertone while wheat retreated on the Board of Trade today. The market thus followed the pattern of late last week with dealings continuing at a slow pace.

Little incentive existed for buying wheat and the bread grain was allowed to drift lower on small scale liquidation. Soybeans also slipped at times, although they showed more recovery power late in the day than did wheat.

Slightly more than 600,000 bushels of corn were shipped from here by lake today, all destined for Canadian ports. This, plus a fairly light run of cash grain, gave the yellow cereal support. Short-covering again was a factor in the firm trend of December oats.

Receipts were: wheat 13 cars, corn 329, oats 9, rye none, barley 15, soybeans 81.

Wheat closed 1-1/2 lower, December $2.10 1/2-2.11, corn was unchanged to 1/4 higher, December $1.20 1/4-1, oats were unchanged to 1/4 higher, December 74 1/2, rye was unchanged to 1/4 higher, Soybeans were 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher, November $2.30 1/2-2.21, and hard was 10 to 20 cents a hundred pounds lower, November $9.45.

Purdue Will Not Join Big Ten In Dropping Notre Dame Contest

Chicago, Nov. 14.—(P)—Preparing for Notre Dame and a Big Ten football schedule is a tough task, some schools avoid, but head coach Stu Holcomb of Purdue says his Bolleymakers "will play Notre Dame as long as Notre Dame wants to play us."

Purdue and the Irish are booked through the 1952 season and Holcomb indicates he hopes the series can continue although there is a "tremendous letdown" by a team after meeting Notre Dame.

A spokesman of the Big Ten's perennial power, Michigan, told the Chicago Herald-American quarterback meeting today that the Wolverines pulled out of the Notre Dame schedule to concentrate on the conference title race.

But Holcomb will operate on the theory "you can't beat 'em unless you play 'em."

"I know just how Biggie Munn (Michigan State Coach) suffered last Saturday," Holcomb said. (Munn held Notre Dame to a 34-21 victory Nov. 6 and Saturday bowed to Oregon State, 25-20.)

Big Letdown

"You just have to make up your mind just before you play Notre Dame, that you are the best team in the country," Holcomb said. "Then comes the tremendous letdown."

Holcomb pointed out that his 1948 Purdue team "worked all spring, planned all summer and worked early fall for Notre Dame and lost by one point, 28-27. That highly touted Purdue team then lost five of its following eight starts."

This season, Purdue lost to Notre Dame, 35-12, and the following week to a 14-0 win over Miami of Florida.

The Michigan spokesman, Wolverine freshman Coach Wally Weber, pointed out that after Michigan's 32-20 triumph over Notre Dame in 1942, the Wolverines "were so spent they lost their next game to Ohio State (21-7)."

The following season, Notre Dame beat Michigan 35-12 in the last meeting between the two schools.

Concentrate on Big 10

It was then, Weber continued, Michigan decided to concentrate on its Big Ten schedule.

"If Michigan alumni were polled on the question," Weber asserted, "I'll say 90 per cent of them would favor our team's concentrating on the conference schedule rather than one outstanding midwestern rival."

Purdue, Iowa (Notre Dame's rival next Saturday) and Indiana are the only Big Ten teams on the Irish schedule, although new conference member Michigan State still will be meeting Notre Dame when it joins the league championship chase in 1953.

Holcomb took exception to "team ratings" which do not recognize, he claimed, that "some schools have a job of getting ready Saturday to Saturday."

Athletic Director Paul Brechler of Iowa asserted that he was "firmly convinced" the Associated Press weekly football poll of sports editors was based on "the teams you do not play."

Old Professor Finds Coaches In Happy Mood

By Whitley Martin

New York, Nov. 14.—(P)—The old professor sat down abruptly. He didn't notice someone had removed his chair. He arose with injured feelings and addressed his hilarious Monday morning class of football coaches.

Old Professor—All right, all right, I can take a joke. Mr. Barnhill, why are you wearing that barrel?

John Barnhill, Arkansas—Necessity, professor. We got the pants beat off us Saturday, fair and square. We have no complaints. We played a terrible game but if we had been at our best we couldn't have beaten S.M.U.

Matty Bell, Southern Methodist—Our boys played heads-up football. Arkansas just caught us when we were right.

Old Professor—Right makes might, they do say. Why are you laughing, Mr. Bryant? Somebody tickling?

Paul "Bear" Bryant, Kentucky—No sir, but we were tickled to death to win over Florida. Everyone played a fine game for us. We had Florida outmanned and Florida wasn't keyed up as it was for Georgia. Florida has a well-coached team, but we got the breaks.

Kay "Bar" Wolf, Florida—Kentucky has a very fine team and it certainly was red hot. About 32 Kentucky players were outstanding against us. Oh, that Farilli! Center Jimmy Kynes was in every play for us and our boys put up a good fight.

Old Professor—Mr. Fesler, I'm glad to see you came back.

Wes Fesler, Ohio State—Yes sir, and so did our boys. It was our best game. When you get 10 points behind a team as good as Illinois and one with greater speed, and you go ahead, and then they come back on a long one to put you behind again, and then you still come back—well, that's courage.

Ray Elliot, Illinois—That Ohio's a great outfit with a whole lot of stuff—a corking good ball club. We were out front in the second half, but you can't bank away at big guys like that all afternoon. The Buckeyes just had too much power.

Old Professor—In other words, you can't cork up a corking good ball club. Mr. Fautrot, better move away from that window. You'll catch cold.

Don Fautrot, Missouri—Our players wouldn't. They couldn't even catch the ball when we had scoring opportunities. Take nothing away from Oklahoma, though. Wilkinson has a great team. We played well enough defensively, just should have scored a few more touchdowns.

Bud Wilkinson, Oklahoma—I'm very pleased. We played just about as well as we have played all season. Missouri's defense didn't seem to want to crack. It never did.

New York Stock Market

New York, Nov. 14.—(P)—Stock market prices took a midday slide today but steadied again at a level somewhat below last week's closing quotations.

Although trading activity picked up on the decline, there was no real attempt to test the strength of support for various groups. Total sales for the day ran around 1,300,000 shares.

BURGLARS STEAL SAFE

Cairo, Ill., Nov. 14.—(P)—Burglars trundled off a 800-pound safe containing $1,083 in cash and checks from the Lemerick Finance company office here over the weekend, company officials reported to police today.

The student had been working out under a boxing instructor. Officials said there was no indication he had suffered any blow during practice.

BOWLING FOR EVERYBODY

Technical Experts: NED DAY and MILTON RAYMER, in cooperation with the National Bowling Council

After your arm reaches the end of its backswing, as described in the last lesson, your swing starts down as you start your slide (1). Ball and left foot are moving forward together...first in the slight step that brings your left foot up alongside your right and then (2) in the long slide as the straight-arm, pendulum swing brings the ball low and across the foul line (3) where you release it smoothly just ahead of the left foot. Your right toe stays on the floor to maintain balance and your right arm swings on upward in a full, smooth follow-through. Practice this approach and swing over and over until the movement, the flow and the rhythm, are as natural as dancing—until arms and feet coordinate naturally. Once mastered you'll be well on your way to a lifetime of fun from America's favorite indoor sport.

In the next installment we'll start a discussion of aiming.

Word comes from Quincy College that the list of new Hawk cage hopefuls is led by Connie Hanley and Paul Kennedy, former Routt high school hardwood hotshots. Hanley is a junior at Quincy, transferred from Tulane while Kennedy is new at the college game, graduating from the local high school only last year.

Jacksonville followers will have to wait 'til Feb. 13 before they can see the two cagers perform here.

Ray DeGree brings his veteran-studded Quincy outfit to Jacksonville for a bout with Illinois College on that date. Al Miller and his Blueboy quintet are scheduled to travel Quincy way on Saturday, Dec. 10.

Four prep quintets in this area will start slapping the oval around this evening, as they swing into hardwood activity. Chandlerville is at Arenzville and Chapin invades Bluffs to get their cage schedules going. Most everyone will be battling on the pines come Friday night.

We were baptized into the '49-'50 season last night, witnessing a heated grade school tussle between Our Saviour's and Bluffs kids.

If what we saw can be used as a sounding board, then the hoop sport is on the upgrade. Playing their first game of the season, the youngsters performed like veterans which speaks well for Routt and Bluffs high teams of the future.

Harold Hillman, Bluffs coach, is tutoring the grade school team in the absence of George Krog, recent victim of an attack of respiratory polio. Hillman is in his first year of coaching at the Scott county high school and appears to be just what the doctor ordered to snap the Bluejays out of their basketball doldrums. Bluffs set a state record last year, registering a big goose-egg on the win side of its record.

Virginia-Tulane Tilt To Be Battle Of Price, Papit

Charlottesville, Va., Nov. 14.—(P)—The steady rise in price brought concern today to the University of Virginia's undefeated and untied football forces.

The "price" in this case, of course, is Eddie Price, Tulane's sensational fullback, who seems to be picking up football steam every time he pokes his head through a pair of shoulder pads.

Price and Virginia's Johnny Papit are expected to stage one of the wildest battles between individuals seen on a Dixie gridiron in years when Tulane comes here Saturday to try to knock the Cavaliers from the lofty perch they reached with a surprising 26-14 conquest of Pennsylvania November 5.

Price and Papit, both 190-pounders with lightning speed galore, have been little short of spectacular all season. Eddie, the South's leading ground gainer in 1948, scored three times in Tulane's 21-21 deadlock with Navy two weeks ago. He staged a repeat performance when the Green Wave crushed Vanderbilt the past Saturday.

Price had his best day of the year against Navy. He picked up 238 yards, went 68 for one of his three touchdowns. He scampered 69 yards for six points against Vanderbilt.

Papit's top performance came in Virginia's conquest of West Virginia. He raced 212 yards during the afternoon, prancing 55 and 53 yards for touchdowns. In Virginia's seven games, Johnny has collected 1,040 yards for a 6.6-yard average. Slowed in early tilts by an ankle injury, Price approaches the 1,000-yard figure for a 7-yard plus average.

The CAMEO

By Virginia Teale Copyright, 1949, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Martin Falter has been murdered and the motive seems to be a valuable carillon cameo which he was trying to sell and which Nell O'Neill claimed to have. Hagar Blair, who runs a gift shop, and who wants the cameo, finds the murdered man and immediately afterwards appears on the scene. They do not report the crime to police but go home. There in Hagar's collection is the missing cameo! As Hagar and Stephanie talk, Arnold Pfeffer is eavesdropping outside their window. Hagar already has told Stephanie that she thinks Arnold, who had been committed by Falter to all the cameos, not the missing cameo in the collection cabinet.

XIII

I LISTENING outside the window. Arnold Pfeffer heard Hagar Blair speak.

"Well, Arnold's a timid little mouse. You saw how he jiggled the pin like a hot potato when he brought it to the shop. Obviously he was panting to get rid of it. He may have dropped the empty box in my car as a kind of signal. I didn't tell you about the box—I thought it would unsettle you. I found it just before I went to Martin Falter's."

"But why would Arnold leave the cameo here?" Stephanie Smith asked.

"Maybe he took it back to Falter and found him murdered. Or, on the other hand, maybe he took it up there and they had words and Arnold stabbed him."

Arnold's scalp crawled. The old bag of bones, he thought furiously, if she were to go to the police with an idea like that!

Then he closed his mouth abruptly. Someone was coming up Hagar Blair's pathway.

Arnold saw Hagar leave the bedroom when the doorbell sounded. He left the window and moved cautiously to the front of the house. The outside light flicked on and the caller's identity was revealed: Audrey Yakov!

"My apologies for this late call,"

Yakov said to Hagar. "There is something I must discuss with you. It is important."

Arnold crouched in the shadows wondering how he could hear what went on between Yakov and Hagar. He permitted himself to utter a mild oath when he realized he was shut out completely.

He crept away from Hagar Blair's house, reached the sidewalk, and with quick, cat-like steps, struck off for town.

YAKOV settled himself on Hagar's tropical divan. He offered her one of his long, fragrant cigarettes, which she refused.

"Well, Miss Blair," he began, "exciting events take place in even the quietest of small American towns, do they not?"

"What exciting events are you talking about?"

Yakov gave a slight chuckle. "Surely even you cannot be so naive as to consider a murder unexciting!"

"A murder?"

"Ah, Miss Blair," Yakov waved a hand in protest, "you looked upon the body of our poor friend, did you not? When his blood was almost fresh, perhaps."

Hagar's flesh crawled visibly. He leaned back. "Let us be honest with one another. You were there looking for the cameo. So?"

"So what? What were you looking for, Trotskyites?"

Yakov's smile disappeared. He gnawed one edge of his narrow mustache. "May I ask if you found the cameo?"

"I'll give you a straight answer: If it was around Martin's place anywhere, I certainly didn't find it."

Yakov looked relieved. "I, also, made a careful search without result. If neither of us could locate the gem, it probably was not there. Perhaps you have thought where to look next? It might be politic to put our brains together."

Neither of us can buy it until it is returned to its legal owner. The charming Nellya."

"How do you know charming Nellya hasn't got it now?"

"I have just talked to Nellya at her studio."

Hagar sniffed. "Tom there?" she asked pointedly.

"I assisted Nellya in getting him into his bed. He arrived home feeling very unhappy and very ill. His stomach," Yakov patted his own lightly, "Very sad."

"Very. Did you tell the O'Neills about the murder?"

Yakov looked pained. "That is something I could not do. They will learn soon enough."

Yakov avoided her eyes. He shrugged and sighed. "A tragic thing. A man peacefully sleeps on his own bed, and while he innocently dreams, an assassin plunges a knife into his neck!"

HAGAR gripped the arms of her chair. "Neck? I thought he was stabbed in the chest?"

"You did not look closely at the body? But, no. You would not—it was too horrifying for a lady's eyes. However, the wound was at the base of the neck, a very tiny mark—one would have to search."

"If Martin was stabbed in the neck, how come his chest was drenched with blood? I mean, so much blood?"

"I would guess that the knife was plunged into an artery, though I am not enough of an anatomist to make a positive statement."

"Did you see the knife?"

One of Yakov's heavy eyebrows slanted upward. "Did you?"

Hagar blurted. "Stop trying to play cat and mouse with me! Of course I didn't! For all I know, maybe you stabbed him and have the knife in your pocket right now!"

Hagar took hold of herself. "It seems to me we're being pretty casual about all this. I'm tired, too. If you'll excuse me, now—"

Yakov bowed. "Certainly. But, before I go, as a special kindness, would it be possible for me to see your cameo collection? As I told you, I, also, am an enthusiast."

State Reduces Charge; Sentence Carries 1-14 Years In Reformatory

Steadying herself with one hand on a table, Mrs. Bertha Sparks, 73 year old Jacksonville woman, stood impassively before Judge Clem Smith in circuit court Monday afternoon, and heard the court fix her sentence for manslaughter at from one to 14 years in the Illinois Women's Reformatory at Dwight.

Mrs. Sparks earlier in the day entered a plea of guilty to manslaughter after a charge of murder against her was dismissed. She did not take the witness stand at an afternoon session at which several witnesses testified for both the state and defense.

The prosecution produced evidence showing that Mrs. Sparks struck Mack Chaudoin with a stove poker at her home on East Washington street March 25, where Chaudoin's blood-spattered body was discovered the following morning. Police officers and Assistant State's Attorney W. T. Wilson testified that the woman first denied knowledge of how Chaudoin died, stating that he "may have drank too much wine," but later switched her story.

Chest Fund Totals $12,997; Another Report Due Today

Two defense witnesses including a son of Mrs. Sparks appeared on the stand, testifying that she was kind to her family, and that at present she is suffering from effects of a leg fracture sustained four years ago.

Judge Clem Smith ordered the taking of testimony before passing sentence Monday afternoon. He sentenced Mrs. Sparks immediately after the last witness was heard. And she was turned over to sheriff's officers and a matron.

Patrolman Jack Gunterman, the first officer to arrive at the Sparks home, 334 East Washington street, on the morning of March 26 this year, told of the condition of the front and middle rooms. Chaudoin was dead on the floor of the middle room, and Mrs. Sparks was in a bed in the same room.

The officer said an inspection of the bed revealed blood on a pillow, a bloody nightgown and a blood-soaked blanket. He identified five photographs of interior scenes at the Sparks home, introduced as exhibits by State's Attorney Albert Hall.

Questioned by Attorney Frank A. Reiser of Jerseyville, defense attorney, Patrolman Gunterman told of the finding of a pocket knife in the front room. Gunterman said the blades were closed, and that no blood was found on them.

Further testimony was to the finding of the knife on the east side of the front room was supplied by Patrolman Arthur L. Woods, who said both blades of the bone-handle knife were closed.

"Good Friends"

Chief of Police Frank Kiloran said that Mrs. Sparks told him Chaudoin arrived at her home at 8 o'clock on the night of March 25 and asked to stay all night. The chief recounted that Mrs. Sparks said Chaudoin fell down, and that he was pretty drunk. Kiloran said he was told by Mrs. Sparks that she and Chaudoin were good friends, and that he had not threatened her. These statements were made during the first conversation Chief Kiloran had with the defendant, he explained.

The chief said she told him "Mack may have died from too much wine." He said Chaudoin was in the city lockup on the night of March 24, but was released the next morning.

Reviews Investigation

Assistant State's Attorney William T. Wilson took the stand as a witness, and was interrogated by State's Attorney Hall as to conversations he had with the defendant during the investigation. Referring to a session of questioning on Monday, March 28, Wilson said the woman told him she and Chaudoin got into an argument.

"She said Mack had a knife," Wilson related. He quoted her as saying "he said I can defend this knife," and quoted her as saying "I said I can use this poker."

Wilson said he purported confession was to effect that Chaudoin moved toward her, and she hit him with the poker. She said she then fell near her bed in an adjoining room. The assistant state's attorney finished his narrative with the arrival of Jim Jacobs and Spec Hocking, who raised the alarm and called the police.

During the conversation, Wilson declared, Mrs. Sparks said "I intended to tell you all the time, but wanted you to work for it," or words to that effect.

Sheriff Ralph Bourn told the court that while he and Mrs. Bourn were bringing the defendant here from Jerseyville after her indictment, Mrs. Sparks made a statement with reference to Chaudoin that "he was too drunk to hurt anyone." She admitted during the trip, he said, that she struck Chaudoin once with a poker. Bourn testified.

Defense Witnesses

Turning to the defense, the court heard two witnesses, both of whom were questioned by Attorney Reiser.

Lowell Starnes of Jerseyville, a son of Mrs. Sparks, described his mother as a kindly and considerate woman, who was interested in his welfare and education while he was growing up. He said he formerly lived in the Greenfield, Nortonville and Jacksonville communities, and that his mother has been a resident of this city 40 years. He described a leg injury she suffered four years ago, stating that she has been unable to work.
